Career Advice from Our Experts

"Technology in healthcare is ever evolving. We are committed to leverage technology to enhance efficiency and achieve better outcomes. To stay ahead, we must embrace continuous learning and maintain a patient-centric approach in all that we do."

Kelvin Sng

Senior Project and Program Manager
(Healthcare Innovation in Artificial Intelligence)

"We look for three specific characteristics in candidates - Passion, Obsession, and Attention. It is important that the individual has the passion for technical excellence and acquiring new knowledge, the obsession to get things done and the attention to the details until the final touch."

Victor Chai

Deputy Director,
Software Engineering & Development (SEED)
